Gunther International Names VP Sales & Marketing

Expansion of Executive Team will Drive Sales

NORWICH, CT –May 22, 2006- Gunther International, Ltd. (Pink Sheets: SORT.PK), a leading designer and manufacturer of high-volume, intelligent software-driven mailing systems announced the selection of Dan Flack as Vice-President Sales and Marketing for Gunther International.

Previously, Mr. Flack had been with Pitney Bowes as the Director for Sales & Marketing for the past 3 years, Prior to this he worked for IBM in a variety of executive roles. He brings a long and impressive background in sales management, marketing programs and customer focused initiatives.

Mr. Flack's responsibilities will include expanding Gunther's sales operations to its customers around the world as well as creating marketing initiatives to enhance customer service and relationships.

"We are excited to have attracted an executive such as Dan," stated Gunther's President and CEO Marc Perkins. "His twenty years of experience in Sales and Marketing functions combined with his familiarity with the mailing industry will allow us to build on our current successes."

Mr. Flack is a member of the Board of Advisors for Direct Marketing to Business conferences and of the DMA Business to Business Operating Council. He is a frequent speaker at conferences on direct marketing/direct mail, one-to-one relationship marketing and related topics, and an often-quoted authority on these topics.

Mr Flack's joining Gunther, comes at a time when the company is launching its revolutionary Champion software. An open architecture system based on Windows technologies, its sophisticated and innovative approach to control and monitoring allows businesses to readily leverage the data inherent in mail operations. Mr Flack will be an key participant when Gunther presents Champion at its forthcoming Technical User Forum on June 26th through 29th 2006. More information can be found at www.techforum2006.com
